I HAVE pleasure in completing the second section of the Register of the University of Oxford by the issue of the Index for the period 1571-1622. Great care has been taken to verify these references ; but as the Index covers some 30,000 names and perhaps double that number of references, I must ask indulgence for such errors as must have escaped my notice.

In compiling this Index I have to acknowledge valued assistance received from Mr. George Parker, Senior Assistant in the Bodleian Library, and various members of his family.

My especial thanks are due to the Rev. Fraser H. Penny, M.A., of S. John's College, Oxford, who has with great kindness discharged for me many duties which would otherwise have engrossed my attention, and so have seriously delayed the completion of this Index.

Since the publication of the earlier parts of this section of the Register, I have been favoured by numerous correspondents with notes, corrections, and suggestions. I desire also most heartily to thank those of them who have subjected the book to searching, if friendly, criticism. Several of their censures have been most valuable, and will tend to improvement in the next section of the Register.

That section will extend from 1622 to the Restoration. A good beginning has been made with it ; and, after a short interval, it will be pressed forward with all speed.

In arranging the names in this Index I have followed a different principle from that which guided me in the body of the work. There I tried to set down the names as they actually occurred in the documents ; here I have set aside minor differences, and brought the names together in such groups as seemed best to suggest analogies, and to make further inquiry possible.

It must be borne in mind that the names in the Register are very uncertain, and that for two reasons.

The first of these, to adopt the old distinction, is 'in ourselves.' In the handwritings of this period, several letters, both capitals and small letters, are so little distinguishable that even the greatest care may misread the names. Instances of this are 'n' and 'u', 'o' and 'e', 'l' and 't', 'll' and 'tt', 'l' and 'b', 'll' and 'bb', 'c' and 't'; 'K' and 'R', 'H' and 'L', and others. In making an index, therefore, it is necessary to adopt some arbitrary method which will bring together into one place these doubtful names.

Accordingly 'Webber' and 'Weller,' 'Langhorne' and 'Laughorne' will be found indexed together, not that I suggest that the names are the same, but that I do not wish to place a possibly doubtful reading in the Register in such a way as to avoid opportunities of comparison with certain readings which may come from other sources. This particular ambiguity, however, will be found seriously to affect only a few names.

The second source of doubt lies 'in the nature of the things themselves,' and affects a far wider range of names. Setting aside the fact that all through this period and to a much later date a man might, and generally did, himself spell his name in more than one way, we must give the greatest weight to the fact that the entries in the Register are made, as a rule, not only at different times but by different persons, and that the spelling is absolutely arbitrary. For example, we would now treat as absolutely distinct the names 'Cock', 'Coke', 'Cook'; but in this period, a man who was entered at matriculation by the bedell as 'Cock' would be pretty certain to be entered in the degree-lists by the Registrar and his deputies in different places as 'Coke', 'Cook', etc. Again, 'e' is added at the end or in the middle of a word at hap-hazard; 's' is appended to a name or removed from it at pleasure; 'h' appears and disappears without rule or reckoning; consonants are written indifferently as single or double. The vowels are constantly being changed, 'oo' appearing for 'u'; 'y' for 'i'; 'oa' for 'o'; 'e' for 'i', and the like. Many consonants also are liable to change, 'c' or 'ck' being used for 'k', 's' for 'c' soft, 'G' for 'J', etc. Hence 'Tooker', 'Tucker', 'Tuker' must all come together; 'Ducke' and 'Duke'; 'Tokely' and 'Tuckley'; 'Berkeley' and 'Barclay'; 'German' and 'Jermyn'; 'White' and 'Wight'; 'Weekes', 'Wyke', and 'Wickes', and so on.

In dealing with this class of ambiguities, I have not limited myself to any one method. Sometimes I have brought them all under one head; sometimes I have left them apart; sometimes I have put them all under one head and also some variants separately—the decision in each case being reached by considerations of utility or readiness of reference. In all cases I have added ample cross references.

I have found the result so satisfactory within the volume itself in bringing together scattered and (on the surface) apparently disconnected entries, that I feel sure that this plan is the right one, and have hope that the Index will be found useful beyond the limited sphere of its primary purpose.

ANDREW CLARK.

ERRATUM.

On p. 16 the order of the second last and third last lines of the initial note has been inverted.

ADDENDA.

On i. 264, it is suggested that 'de Blouay' should be 'de Blonay', there being an old Swiss family of that name near Vevay, see Baedeker's Switzerland (1887) p. 216. Also that 'Plantius' may be an error for 'Plantinus', and if so possibly a member of the well-known printer family, Plantin of Antwerp.

On iv. 297, it may be noted that 'John Maynard' gives great trouble. I regard the entry on 26th April, 1621 (ii. 387), as a post-entry of the matriculation of a man who came to Oxford about 1618, and actually took B. A. on 25th April, 1621 (iii. 395). An earlier entry about the same man is on 13th April, 1621 (i. 281). This is an extreme case, but there are many slighter ones which show that this identification is not unwarrantable.

INDEXES.

Of the following Indexes, Nos. I-V are Special Indexes supplementary to those in Part I; Nos. VI-IX are Special Indexes complete in themselves; No. X is the General Index of all English names occurring in Parts I-III of this section of the Register.

INDEX I.

OF CITIZENS OF OXFORD, ETC.

THE names of citizens occurring in the present section of the Register are found mainly in Part I, and are there indexed (Part I, pp. 408-424). The following are the names of the few citizens who are mentioned in Part II:—

Ambroes, . . . (1562), ii. 7.	Hearon, Michael (1562), ii. 9.
Barker, Christopher (1579, Lond.), i. p. vi; ii. 100.	Hewstar (Hwester), William (1561), i. 415; ii. 4.
Barker, Robert (1612, Lond.), i. p. vii.	Horlottpe, . . . (1562), ii. 8.
Bayly, . . . (1562), ii. 8 bis .	Lenceanus, Morgan (1567), ii. 4.
Boldman, William (1562), ii. 8.	Little (Lytell), . . . (1562), ii. 9.
Cobler, . . . (1562), ii. 8.	Maunc, Peter (1566), ii. 4.
Crosse, John (1656), i. p. x.	Miles (Myls), . . . (1562), ii. 8.
Daniel, . . . (1575). See 'aedes Daniel' infra , p. 11.	Rixon, John (1562), ii. 6.
Daniel, Charles (1567), ii. 4.	Ryse, . . . (1562), ii. 6.
Folly, . . . (1562), ii. 7, 8.	Stockbolde, . . . (1567), ii. 4.
	Watkins, . . . (1562), ii. 7.

INDEX II.

OF PRIVILEGED PERSONS.

THE greater number of Privileged Persons mentioned in the present section of the Register are found in Part I, and are there indexed (Part I, pp. 425-433). The lists of members of the Colleges and Halls given at the beginning of Part II contain the names of college servants as well as of other members. It is difficult to separate the two classes of names, owing to the meagre information given by the lists. But, to supplement the list of Privileged Persons in Part I, the attempt to set down the servants, as apart from the other members of the University, has been here made. All these names are, however, included also in Index X, the general index.

In a few cases names have been left in the list of Privileged Persons in Part I. pp. 386-406, which ought rather to have been placed among the ordinary matriculations in Part II, as is shown by the degrees in Part III. These cases will be recognised in the following Index by the reference to Part III.

A few names omitted in the Index to Part I are inserted here.

INDEX III.

OF INCORPORATIONS AND FOREIGNERS.

To the index of persons incorporating and visitors given in Part I, pp. 433-453, there are here added the additional names and references which occur in Parts II and III. Some omissions of the Index in Part I are also inserted here.

The Cambridge names are also placed in the general index, Index X; the foreign names are also placed in Index VIII, grouped according to country.

- S. Alban Hall: i. 454¹; ii. p. xi, xii, xv; iii. p. vi bis.
- S. Edmund Hall: i. 32, 156, 286, 287, 290; ii. p. xii; iii. p. vi.
- S. John the Baptist's College: i. 454; ii. p. xii; iii. 8.
- S. John's Hall: i. 365, either an error for S. John's College or for Gloucester Hall, which had a close connection with S. John's College.
- S. Mary's College: prior to the reformation this had two applications in Oxford: (a) the College of S. Mary Winton, i. e. New College, i. 92; iii. 112; (b) S. Mary's College, a religious house occupying what is now the site of Frewin Hall. The passage quoted in i. 286, line 3, refers to this and not, as there conjectured, to S. Mary Hall.
- S. Mary Hall: i. 21, 32, 156, 283, 284, 285; ii. p. xii; iii. p. vi. See the preceding notice.

- Urban Hall, a corruption for Alburne or S. Alban Hall: iii. 107, 114.
- Wadham College: i. 403, 404; ii. p. xii, 339. The students subscribing on 3 June, 1614 (ii. 333, 334) are ascertained (with one or two doubtful exceptions) to have been members of Wadham College. See the Rev. R. B. Gardiner's forthcoming Register of the College.
- White Hall: i. 283 bis, 285, 289, 291; ii. p. xi, 7.
- Worcester College: i. 33, 289; ii. p. xi.
- Students not attached to any College or Hall: i. 454; ii. 5. The following names must be noticed in Index II, supra, as apparently those of people matriculating as 'Privileged Persons' but afterwards proceeding to a degree from a College or Hall:—Philip Carthret, Henry Dell, Elias Dumaresq, Robert Hunter, Ezechiel Pownoll, Thomas Trent.

INDEX V.

OF WORDS AND MATTERS.

THE subject-matter of Part I has been indexed there, pp. 455-467. What here follows is supplementary to that index and not inclusive of it, being mostly an index of those points which occur in Parts II and III.

- accumulation of degrees; see 'cumulatus,' infra.
 Act, the, i. 320.
 admission to Bodleian Library, i. 262.
 admission-books; College, iii. 1, 7; of the Bodleian, i. 262.
 'aedes Daniel,' apparently a lodging-house for students, ii. 66; compare 'domus Johannis Rixon,' ii. 6; 'domus Watkyns,' ii. 7; 'domus Ambroes,' ii. 7; 'domus Cobler,' ii. 8; 'domus Follye,' ii. 8; 'domus Philip Jonys,' ii. 8; 'domus Horlottle,' ii. 8; 'domus Mylys,' ii. 8; 'domus Michael Hearon,' ii. 9; 'domus Lytell,' ii. 9. But these are all of 1562 before the statutes about residence in town were made stricter; whereas the 'aedes Daniel' is of date 1575.

 age of undergraduates at matriculation, ii. 409. The fact that the Matriculation Register often omits the names of undergraduates till just before their degree renders very difficult any exact estimate of the average age at matriculation. See iii. pp. v, vi, and the references given infra under the heading 'matriculations deferred.' Roughly speaking the usual age at matriculation during the Elizabethan and Jacobean period may be taken as lying between 14 and 18.

'clericus' is used in two senses:
(a) 'clerk,' i.e. Bible-clerk at a College, who in return for certain allowances and fees undertook certain duties in Hall and in Chapel. He was called 'clericus' at some colleges, e.g. Magd., New C., Corp., ii. 15, 17; iv. 9, 10; 'bibliotista' at others, e.g. Linc., ii. 37. (b) 'clergyman,' which is the sense in ii. 35, 283; iii. 30; as also in the phrase 'clerici filius,' ii. 77, 91, 306, 308.

'creatio' of M.A., iii. 427.

'cumulatus,' i. 458. The two senses of this term in Part III may be distinguished in the following way: (a) Where two degrees occur together at the same date, the expression 'cumulatus' probably calls attention to the fact that the degrees are 'accumulated,' i.e. taken together by a dispensation from the statutes requiring an interval between the degrees; see e.g. the divinity degrees of John Flavell, iii. 146, and Theodore Price, iii. 147; and the medical degrees of Clement Westcombe, iii. 225; etc. (b) In other cases, where one degree only is found at the date, 'cumulatus' must be used in the sense of 'compounding,' i.e. paying higher fees for the degree because of the possession of property; see e.g. for B.A., iii. 231, 241, 252, etc.; for M.A., iii. 276, 288, 289, etc.; for B.C.L., iii. 445; for D.C.L., iii. 218; for M.B., iii. 411; for B.D., iii. 286; for D.D., iii. 185, 288.

INDEX VI.

OF PERSONS ALLUDED TO.

IN the matriculations of this period, the father's quality is generally given, but not his name. From the indication of the quality, it will be possible in many cases, by the help of local knowledge, to supply the father's name. I have tried to do so in the following index with all persons of an academical standing (found in such allusions as 'doctoris filius'), and with ecclesiastical date of the allusion; third, the person probably alluded to with a reference to dignitaries and peers. This index gives, first, the family name; second, the his degree; and lastly, the reference to the page where the allusion occurs.

- Abbott (1609, Robert Abbott, iii. 82), alluded to in his son's matriculation in ii. 307.
- Allen (1621, Richard, iii. 164), alluded to in his sons' matriculations and degrees, ii. 397; iii. 423, 443.
- Atkins (1609, M.D., not of Oxford), ii. 305; iii. 300.
- Audley (1575, James Touchet¹, son of Henry Touchet, Lord Audley, 1560-1564), ii. 60.
- Aylmer (1591, John, Bp. of London), ii. 187, 191.
- Aylworth (1610, Anthony, iii. 77), ii. 312.
- Baber (1608, John, iii. 114), ii. 300.
- Babington (1600, Zachary, iii. 31), ii. 241.
- Ballow (1621, William, iii. 166), ii. 393.
- Barefoot (1603, John, iii. 21), ii. 265; iii. 258.
- Barkley (1590, Henry, Lord Berkley), ii. 177.
- Barry (1603, ? David Barry, Viscount Buttevant), ii. 266.
- Bayly (1617, Lewis, Bishop of Bangor), ii. 362; iii. 385.
- Bayly (1615, Doctor, perhaps Lewis supra, or James, iii. 186), ii. 336.
- Beaumont (1596, 'baro'), ii. 218.
- Bentham (1581, Thomas, Bishop of Lichfield), ii. 115.
- Bevans (1608, Francis, iii. 86), ii. 300.
- Blague (1597, Thomas Blague, Dean of Rochester, iii. 48), ii. 219.
- Bourke (1584, Ulick de Burgh, Earl of Clanricard), ii. 139.
- Bourne (1611, D.C.L., probably Gilbert, incorporated as D.C.L., i. 378), ii. 321.
- Bourne (1607, John, iii. 55), ii. 293; iii. 294.
- Bradshaw (1607, Ralph, iii. 239, i. e. Roger, iii. 69), ii. 294.
- Brooke (1625, 'episcopus'), iii. 439.
- Bruer (1602, Doctor, not of Oxford), iii. 232.
- Bryan (1582, Connor O'Brien, Earl of Thomond), ii. 121. (This Thadeus is probably Teague, Connor's second son.)
- Bullingham (1582, John, Bp. of Gloucester), ii. 121.
- Caesar (1602, Julius, iii. 51), ii. 255.
- Chippingdale (1598, John, iii. 23), ii. 228.
- Clifford (1621, Thomas, iii. 380), ii. 387; iii. 397.

INDEX VIII.

OF PLACES.

A SEPARATE Index of Places mentioned is not of much importance in the present section of the Register, but it becomes of great interest and value in the next section, where the Matriculation Register begins to give the parish as well as the county of the student's father.

In the present Index, places in England will be found classified under their respective counties, and places abroad and foreigners brought together in a similar way under their respective countries. It has to be noted that in a number of matriculations, e.g. 'Canterbury,' 'Carlisle,' 'Salisbury,' 'Chichester,' 'Lichfield,' and the like, it is often doubtful whether the city or the diocese is implied.

England.

The counties of England will be found classified, so far as they occur in the Matriculations, in Part II, pp. 415-420. Additional references follow.

Bedford, ii. 252 :—

Berkshire :—

Abingdon (Abington), i. 327, 343;

tenham, i. 343; Marcham, i. 343;
Okinham, i. 344; Sutton-Courtney, i. 343; Windsor, i. 466.

Bristol. The town of Bristol, perhaps because situated partly in Gloucestershire and partly in Somersetshire, is in the Matriculation Register treated as a county in itself, see Part ii. 47, 226, 235, 257, and the table 415-420. Other references are i. 316 bis.

Buckinghamshire, ii. 252 :—

Broughton, i. 344; Eton, i. 316;
iii. 179; Stoke-Golding, iii. 346;
Turfield, i. 344; West Wycombe,
i. 343, 344.

Herefordshire¹ :—

Pytley, i. 342; Tuing, i. 150, iii. 108 (perhaps Tring in Herts.)

Hereford, diocese of, i. 460.

Hertfordshire¹ :—

Tuinge (? Tring), i. 150; iii. 108.

Kent :—

Canterbury, i. 135, 376; ii. 127; Greenwich, i. 151, 250, 291; Hastings (S. Clement's Church), iii. 285; Yalding, iii. 90. The form 'Cannetriensis' is perhaps for Kent, ii. 136; the forms 'Canturiensis' (ii. 95), 'Cantuar.' (ii. 139), probably for Canterbury (the diocese).

Lancashire², ii. 408 :—

Leicestershire², i. 316; ii. 408 :—
Seiston, iii. 44.

Lichfield, diocese of, i. 130.

Lincolnshire, i. 316 :—

Grantham, i. 316 bis; Waynflet, i. 18, 71.

London is treated as a county by itself, see the table in Part ii. pp. 415-420. Other references are i. 288, 314, 316, 461; iii. 125, 163, 220, 236. Lambeth Palace, i. 242; Whitehall, i. 290, 293 bis, 294 bis; York House, i. 290.

Wales.

During this period Wales supplied, in proportion to its population, no inconsiderable percentage of the students of the University. See i. p. xv. It is therefore impossible to give here a separate list of students of Welsh birth, as I have done with other countries. The facts about their numbers and their counties will be found in the table in Part II, pp. 415-420. They tend to appear chiefly at some few Colleges; see Part II. 408.

INDEX IX.

OF NAMES AND SURNAMES.

THE list of names given in Index X is probably (for the years over which it extends) more representative of English names than any list yet published. Thus, it is representative in point of time, the matriculations adding steadily some hundred or two hundred fresh names every year from 1571 to 1621. It is representative also as regards the different grades of English society, the matriculations (as may be seen from the table in Part II, p. 414) embracing every social status; while names of peers, citizens of Oxford, tradesmen, and servants of the University and Colleges and individual scholars have been added from Part I. It is representative also as regards the area from which it is drawn, all the English counties being represented and most of them in each year; see the table in Part II, pp. 415-420. Further, the list is almost exclusively made up of names from England and Wales, very few Scotsmen, Irishmen, or foreigners entering the University at this period, and these few being easily separated from the other names.

A large and representative list of this kind offers exceptional facilities for noting the comparative incidence of English names and surnames.

A. Table of Christian Names.

I have added below an alphabetical list of Christian names occurring in Index X, between the dates 1560 and 1621. To each name is appended in square brackets the number of times it occurs within the period. After which are given the years in which it occurs, the figures in brackets after a year indicating the number of times it occurs in that year. The names which occur most frequently are given in a table below.

It has to be remembered that the more common names occur more frequently than they ought to do, from the tendency to confuse less common names with them. For example, a person called 'Edmund,' if he is frequently mentioned in the Register, is almost certain to be somewhere quoted as 'Edward,' 'Gregory' as 'George,' 'Randall' or 'Raphael' as 'Ralph,' 'Gilbert' as 'William,' and so on.

A table of this kind does not merely minister to the natural curiosity to know what Christian names were actually in use in England; it may also prove of service to history. In the period which will be covered by the next volume there are various lists of names whose authenticity has been questioned; this table and a similar table in the next volume will supply an indirect test of their probability or improbability.

Some further points of interest may also be developed. For instance, the occurrence of 'Erasmus' as a Christian name is an indirect testimony to the reputation acquired by that scholar in England; compare 'Calvin.' The table will help to dispel some misconceptions, arising from Royalist wits, as to the baptismal names in use among the Puritans. It is to be noted that there are few exceptional names ('Accepted,' 'Deliverance,' 'Renewed'), so far as the table yet goes, but as we approach the Puritan epoch Biblical names begin to be more frequent, e. g. Emanuel, Joseph, Nathaniel, Samuel. There seems then to arise a preference for Old Testament names and for those New Testament names which had not become associated with 'Saints' days' or Services, such as Caleb, Ephraim, Israel, Jonathan, Cornelius, Silas, etc. But this point will be further elucidated in the next volume.

The following female Christian names are found between 1560 and 1621 in the incidental notices of women in the present volume.

- | | |
|---|--|
| Alice [3], 1581, 1615, 1620. | Frances [3], 1614, 1621 (2). |
| Anne [6], 1581, 1590, 1594, 1605,
1615, 1619; Anna. | Helen [1], 1614; see also Ellen. |
| Barbara [2], 1591, 1613. | Helena [1], 1596. |
| Beatrice [1], 1615. | Jane [2], 1578, 1596. |
| Catherine, see Katharine. | Joan [2], 1575, 1596. |
| Cicely [2], 1581, 1586. | Katharine [4], 1584 (2), 1586, 1620;
Catherine. |
| Edith [2], 1612, 1619. | Margaret [4], 1584 (2), 1586, 1587. |
| Elizabeth [13], 1573, 1588, 1593, 1596
(2), 1600, 1609, 1610, 1614, 1615
(2), 1619, 1621. | Martha [3], 1585, 1591, 1603. |
| Ellen [4], 1568, 1590, 1596, 1615;
see also Helen. | Mary [3], 1579, 1605, 1619. |
| | Tomisina [1], 1620. |
| | Winifred [1], 1581. |

B. Welsh names.

It is well known that in Wales the surname was generally the father's Christian name with the addition of 's' or prefixing of 'P' to form the patronymic. Thus Evan Jones would be the son of John Williams, who again would be the son of William Davies, and so on. Probably most of the Welsh names during this period are of this kind, although the fact cannot be ascertained in consequence of the Register not giving the fathers' names. There are, however, some instances:—'Thomas Rice, son of Rice Thomas,' i. 343; 'Evan Prhydderch, son of Roderic Evans,' ii. 366. This may be the explanation of the additional name in 'Rees Lewis Davids,' ii. 122.

C. Double names or double Christian names.

As pointed out in i. 457, these are not uncommon with the foreigners, especially Germans, mentioned in this period; and additional instances may be found in ii. 82, 346; iii. 333. It is very different with English names; there are hardly any instances of Englishmen with double names in this period, and the few instances there are are more or less open to doubt.

|--|---|
| 1573, Thomas Pope Blunt, ii. 56,
where see note. | 1582, Rees Lewis Davids, ii. 122;
but see supra , under B. |
| 1574, Thomas Postumus Hobbie, ii.
57; but the 'Postumus' may be descriptive of his being born after his father's death, and not baptismal. | 1585, Thomas Todde Hunter, ii.
147; but Todhunter seems the correct form. |
| 1578, Laurence Pricharde Pengwerne,
iii. 30; but Pengwerne may be a place-name. | 1589, Henry Donne Lee, ii. 169, and Edward Donne Lee, ii. 174;
but Dunlee may be the correct
form. |
| | 1615, Thomas Pope Blunt, ii. 340. |

D. Names connected by 'alias.'

 1635, Bonner alias Pitts, i. 344.

INDEX X.

OF 'SCHOLARES,' AND GENERAL.

THE principal object of this Index is to bring together the names of all members of the University who occur in the three preceding parts of this volume. To facilitate identification, the first year¹ in which the person is mentioned is added, and the College or Hall to which he is ascertained to have belonged. Where no College has been discovered, the person is marked 'schol.' (i. e. for 'scholaris') in all cases where he certainly or probably was a student, and not a servant.

Further, all English names have been brought into this Index. The absence of any entry except that of first year of mention indicates that they are not students, or at least not Oxford students, and are classified in the preceding indexes.

Except in a few rare cases where they matriculated or graduated, foreigners are omitted in this Index. They have been indexed already in Part I, pp. 433-453, and in the present Part, pp. 30, 35.

The names which are given in italics are references, not to real persons, but to errors of the registrars and scribes.

The references i, ii, iii are to Parts i, ii, iii of the present volume. The most convenient way of citing the Register and its different volumes and parts is to quote Mr. Boase's volume as Reg. Oxon. I, and the present volume as Reg. Oxon. II, and each part of it by small numerals:—e. g. the reference to the doctor's theses of Archbishop Laud would be Reg. Oxon. II. i. 206; to his matriculation, Reg. Oxon. II. ii. 172; to his degrees, Reg. Oxon. II. iii. 183; to Isaac Casaubon, Reg. Oxon. II. iv. 30.

¹ As pointed out in iii. pp. v, vi, the matriculation seems often to be later than the actual beginning of residence. This is an instance. Nathaniel Badcocke and John Day were matric. on 19 Oct. 1621, and were adm. B.A. on 14 Nov. 1621. Both occur in the Broadg. H. list as early as 1618-9; see i. 291.

¹ The entry 'Thomas Bratherick' of ii. 334, is probably the subscription of this man, delayed till just before the degree. Compare a similar delay with Frederick Vaughan, infra.

The 'Roger Bradshawe' of i. 137, 143, 203, must be the 'Ralph Bradshawe' of iii. 239 ; and so these divinity degrees may belong to 'Roger Bradshawe' of iii. 69.

¹ In the text of iii. 263 add to this John Pitts, of Magd. H., 'lic. M.A. (Magd. H.) 6 May, 1609, inc. 1609; adm. B.D. (Wadh.) 5 April, 1620; lic. to preach (Wadh.) 2 July, 1628; lic. D.D. (Wadh.) 24 March, 1648.' The M.A. degree has been omitted in the text; the Divinity degrees have been attached to John Pitts, of Exet., iii. 299. But Mr. Gardiner tells me that John Pitts was Fellow of Wadham and M.A. before 1611; and so must be identified with the John Pitts of Magd. H.

² In the text of iii. 299 remove the B.D., lic. to preach, and M.A. from this name. See the preceding note.

² I take this to be an error for Thomas Tomson, M.A., Oriel; and assume that he is the same person as is mentioned in the preceding note.

¹ Frederic Vaughan's subscription has been placed on i. 403 because of making his 'mark' instead of signing the subscription book. The mark is however explained by his blindness, noticed in i. 94 ; compare the parallel case of Henry Cotton, ii. 283, note 2. It will be observed in this case that the subscription, omitted at the beginning of residence, is enforced just before taking the B.A. degree ; compare the instances given in iii. p. v., and iv. p. 94, note 1.
